Keeping it Watertight

For all your waterproofing needs, look no further than the latest advancement in watertight technology from leading bathroom manufacturer Classic Marble - the multi award winning Classi-Seal.

Already widely used in Ireland, Classi-Seal is a revolutionary waterproof upstand containing patented technology that completely eliminates the potential for water leakage, and subsequent costly repairs, be it around the bath or shower, or in the kitchen.

Specifically designed to accommodate vertical movement of least 15mm between the item and contact wall. Whilst still maintaining a waterproof seal, the flexible, self-adhesive Classi-seal strip provides an immediate, seamless surface upon which tiles can be laid with no further attention required for the duration of the application's lifespan.

Classi-Seal is available from local building and plumbers merchants. Visit www.classic-marble.com for more information

The Power of Four

Following the launch of its completely redesigned and improved range of ChannelPlus XL electronic programmers and time switches, Horstmann Controls has now complemented the range with an additional four channel version, the new H47XL.

Simple to install and ensuring absolute compliance with the latest zoning requirements in Part L of the amended building regulations, the H47XL offers a combination of four independent seven day timers, each giving up to three 'on' and 'off' functions per day in a single unit.

Unlike other four channel devices on the market, this user-friendly programmer has been designed for domestic use, providing advanced, easily programmed features, a bright blue back lit LCD display which is easy to read and menu-driven programming, as well as a clock that is factory pre-set and automatically adjusts between BST and GMT.
